

APPLICANT AND PROSPECTIVE APPLICANT PRIVACY NOTICE

In this notice, “we”, “us”, “our” and “PIMCO” means PIMCO Investment Management (Shanghai) Limited, being the entity that you are applying to for employment.

We are registered in the People's Republic of China (PRC) and our registered address is at Room 7204, 72/F, No. 479, Lujiazui Ring Road, China (Shanghai) Free Trade Pilot Zone.

About this privacy notice

We are responsible for ensuring that we use your personal information in compliance with the Personal Information Protection Law of the People's Republic of China (《中华人民共和国个人信息保护法》).

This privacy notice sets out the basis on which any personal information about you will be processed by us. We should be grateful if you would read the information set out below and confirm that you understand and consent to the processing activities, where applicable, before submitting your CV and/or application form.

Personal information that we collect about you

We will collect and process the following personal information about you:

- Information that you provide to us or one of our affiliates. We will process information that you give us by submitting any applications or by indicating to us your interest for prospective roles. This information is likely to include:
 - your full name, date of birth, nationality, identification card / passport number, citizenship, immigration status, education and qualification details, marital status, home address and home telephone number, mobile telephone number, employment history, other application details, your resume / CV, work eligibility, results of online tests, assessments and interview information; and

- Information we obtain from other sources. This is likely to include information about you, such as:
 - personal information we collect from professional networks where you have set up a publicly available profile (e.g. LinkedIn) or from recruitment consultants to whom you have provided your CV for application purposes; and
 - details of your suitability to work with us, your past performance at work, your character, verification of the information that you provide to us as part of your application, and if legally permitted, any history concerning criminal convictions, from third party references that you provide to us, from your previous and / or current employers, opinions expressed by others about you and from third party background checking services or a previous employer or other referee.

Uses of your personal information

Your personal information may be stored and processed by us in the following ways and for the following purposes:

- to consider your job application (including, in some cases, verifying your qualifications, education and references with those third parties you name);
- if your application is unsuccessful or if you have indicated your interest for prospective roles, we will keep your information on record to notify you of relevant job vacancies with PIMCO that you may be interested in, in the future;
- compliance with any legal or regulatory obligation to which PIMCO is subject (including compliance with any request from regulatory authorities or other relevant public authorities);
- we will process personal information related to your use of our IT systems in order to comply with legal obligations;
- the prevention and detection of crime or fraud, subject to local law; and
- in order to carry out diversity monitoring and activities if required by law and / or permitted by law including to help us improve how we market our recruitment events and job roles.

We are entitled to use your personal information in these ways because:

- we need to in order to consider you for a position at PIMCO and potentially enter into an employment contract with you; or
- we have legal and regulatory obligations that we have to discharge;
- we are processing the personal information that you have made publicly available or is publicised by other lawful channels within a reasonable scope; or
- we obtained your specific consent.

In addition to the above, we reserve the right to collate, process and disseminate any statistics based on an aggregation of data held by us provided that any individual is not identified from the resulting analysis and the collation, processing and dissemination of such information is permitted by law.

In certain circumstances, not providing the requested data to us may affect our ability to meet the above purposes.

Processing of your sensitive personal information

Sensitive personal information means any personal information that once leaked or illegally used, is likely to cause harm to the personal dignity of the relevant natural person or potentially endangers the physical and property safety of the individual, including biometric data, religious belief, special identity, medical/health data, financial account information and location tracking data, etc and personal information of minors under the age of 14.

We may need to process certain sensitive personal information about you, including your identification / passport number, marital status and history of criminal convictions. We need to process such sensitive personal information in order to evaluate your suitability and perform specific legal or regulatory obligations including vetting, etc.

Where we rely on your consent to process your personal information, we will obtain your separate consent to processing your sensitive personal information as described above. Please note that if you do not consent to our processing of such sensitive personal information, we may not be able to efficiently perform our internal management and controls, or it may affect the rights and interests of yourself or other individuals. PIMCO will take appropriate security measures to safeguard your sensitive personal information according to applicable laws and regulations.

Transfer of your information to third parties

We may transfer your personal information to third parties in the circumstances below.

- Your personal information may be transferred to any PIMCO group entity and Allianz group entity located in or outside PRC, which may also use your personal information in connection with the purposes listed above.

We will take steps to ensure that the personal information is accessed only by employees of our affiliates that have a need to do so for the purposes described in this notice.

- We may transfer your personal information to various entrusted parties outside of the PIMCO group and Allianz group, which are located in or outside PRC and process your personal information on our behalf:
 - for the purposes of assessing your application and verifying the information you have provided; or
 - to the extent required by law, for example if we are under a duty to disclose your personal information in order to comply with any legal obligation or to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights; or
 - to our service providers (for example, the providers of our electronic data storage services and applicant or prospective applicant relationship management tool) for the purposes of providing services to us.

These entrusted parties will be subject to confidentiality requirements and they will only use your personal information as described in this privacy notice.

Transfers of personal information outside PRC

The personal information that we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside PRC. It may also be processed by individuals operating outside PRC who work for our affiliates (including PIMCO / Allianz group companies) or for one of our suppliers.

Where we transfer your personal information outside PRC, we will obtain your separate consent or rely on other applicable legal grounds such as performance of contracts with you or our legal duties, and will ensure that it is protected in a manner that is consistent with how your personal information will be protected by us in PRC.
